COMMISSIONER STAPLES JOINS PRESIDENT OBAMA, GOVERNOR PERRY AND TEXANS ACROSS THE STATE TO HONOR FIRST RESPONDERS WHO DIED IN THE WEST TRAGEDY

Texas Agriculture Commissioner Todd Staples today attended the memorial service to honor the first responders who died in last week's explosion in West. Fifteen people died in the explosion, 12 of them were first responders. Commissioner Staples issued the following statement.

“Our hearts continue to mourn with the families who lost loved ones. We hope they take comfort in knowing these brave souls and their patriotism will not be forgotten. Their selfless heroism reminds the nation that Texans are defined by our actions, not by events.

“Honoring our fallen heroes in West reconfirms the value all Texans place on the service and sacrifice of these brave men and women who protect us daily. Emergency responders add a layer of strength to the Lone Star State.”

TDA's Office of Rural Affairs is working with the City of West to determine recovery needs and to assist the community with tools to rebuild.

Due to the overwhelming response of people donating various goods in support of the people of West, city officials are encouraging those wanting to help to make cash donations. Visit the American Red Cross, Heart of Texas Chapter, the Texas Disaster Relief Fund, The Salvation Army, The State National Bank in West or POINTWEST Bank for more information. Make sure to indicate donations support West, Texas.

MORE DOCTORS SENT TO ADDRESS GUANTANAMO HUNGER STRIKE

With the strike now entering its 12th week, President Barack Obama has faced fresh calls to honour his promise to close the prison at the US base in Cuba, which holds 166 individuals captured as part of the "War on Terror." Some 40 US Navy medical personnel, including nurses and specialists, arrived over the weekend, said Lieutenant Colonel Samuel House, a military spokesman at Guantanamo. "The influx of personnel was planned several weeks ago as increasing numbers of detainees chose to protest their detention," he said. Lt Col House said 100 of the 166 inmates are striking, a number that hasn't changed since Saturday. Of those, 21 are receiving feeding through nasal tubes, the spokesman said, one more than on Saturday. Five are hospitalized, he added in the statement, without specifying whether any were in life-threatening condition. However, he told AFP that none were close to dying, officially denying allegations by British Guantanamo expert Andy Worthington, who wrote on his blog that four prisoners were "close to death" as a result of the strike, citing a "credible source inside Guantanamo." One of the at-risk detainees, Mr Worthington said, was Khiali Gul, one of 86 prisoners cleared for release yet jailed indefinitely. "Every day I expect to hear the worst. I am appalled that President Obama has done nothing, and continues to do nothing," he told AFP. Lawyers for the detainees have said around 130 inmates are observing the hunger strike, more than officially acknowledged. The rapidly growing protest movement began on February 6, when inmates claimed prison officials searched Korans in a way they considered blasphemous, according to their lawyers. Officials have denied any mishandling of Islam's holy book. But the strike has now turned into a larger protest by prisoners against their indefinite incarceration without charge or trial over the past 11 years. Lt Col House said recently that while detainees have a right to protest, "it is our mission to provide a safe, secure and humane environment, and we will not allow our detainees to starve themselves to death." On Friday, the White House said it continues to closely monitor the hunger strikers and that Obama remained "committed to closing" Guantanamo. "A fundamental obstacle to closing this detention facility ... remains in Congress," White House spokesman Jay Carney said.

Comptroller's Office Offers Vital Resource for Business Owners Looking for Answers to Their State Tax Questions

During the month of May, the Comptroller's office will conduct 11 free taxpayer seminars across the state. At these seminars, taxpayers can learn how to properly fill out tax forms, and file and pay taxes electronically. Information about e-services will also be available to help taxpayers manage their accounts online. Comptroller representatives will be on hand to answer questions and provide assistance to attendees.

"We want to empower Texas business owners by making resources and information accessible. Conducting these seminars and making our team of tax specialists available provides guidance for businesses," said R.J. DeSilva, spokesperson for the Comptroller's office.

A complete list of locations, dates and times of the taxpayer seminars is available at www.window.state.tx.us/taxinfo/seminars.html. Those who are unable to attend the seminars can call the Comptroller's tax assistance line at 1-800-252-5555. Tax forms and tax information can also be found on the Comptroller's website, www.window.state.tx.us.
